

FREE Summer Creative Workshops in Neasden

Join a series of free, hands-on workshops where you can design, create, and contribute ideas that will help shape new public art in Neasden.

No experience needed, just come along and try things out.

Each session is designed for different groups (Families, Children, Young People, Women & Girls) so everyone can take part in a way that feels comfortable and fun!

You'll work with artists POoR Collective, explore creative ideas, and help influence what the final artworks could become.

How to Join: Drop in and join a session but booking is advised
