Your Local Team

Evington and Coleman Ward officers recently convened with local councillors and agencies to address community issues and offer support and advice. The meeting was productive, fostering extensive discussions on various concerns. Following the meeting, patrols were carried out along East Park Road. This initiative was well-received, providing opportunities for meaningful conversations with local businesses and residents. The Evington and Coleman Ward team remains committed to maintaining a safe and supportive environment for all community members.

The below new and updated beat priorities have been set to take effect from July.

What we are doing

PCSO COOK has been actively addressing various issues in her local beat area. She responded to a report of an abandoned vehicle causing parking problems for residents and successfully had the vehicle seized. In addition, she makes regular visits to St Barnabas Primary School, where there have been concerns about dangerous parking during school pick-up and drop-off times. Her high-visibility patrols have been effective in deterring inconsiderate parking, ensuring a safer environment for everyone.

News

Coleman

Here is a snapshot taken by PC WICKS, having finished patrolling North Evington. PC WICKS wishes to add, "have to say, the sunset tonight was absolutely breath taking, sometimes the best things in life are free".

Evington

It was an eventful shift for PCSO Madu, he assisted local response colleagues with enquires relating to an assault. Additionally, an established beat priority is to reduce shoplifting incidents, regular patrols in local businesses have significantly reduced shoplifting incidents and helps to create a safer environment for business owners, customers and local residents. PCSO Madu is planning to work with relevant agencies regarding parking issues raised by Goodwood Road residents.

Beat Surgery - North Evington Café

PCSO Cook was at her regular beat surgery location. It was great to see those who attended. Why not come by next time to discuss any local concerns, ask questions, or just to say hello. It's a great opportunity to connect with your Community Support Officer in a relaxed setting. Find out when you can meet a local Community Support Officer at one of many community engagements below. Following PCSO COOK's beat surgery, she was on the other side of the beat outside of Green Lane Infants. The children loved waving at PCSO Cook (and she loved waving back).

School Event

PC MISTRY and PCSO OLEH from the Coleman Ward attended Crown Hills Community College for an event. It was a fun day for everyone with children and adults of all ages trying uniform on and checking out the police vehicle.
