From information collated from local surveys, beat knowledge, intelligence and reports to Leicestershire Police, the following areas have been highlighted as priorities within the community:

- Priority 1: Anti-Social Behaviour (ASB)

You said: Anti-social behaviour around open spaces across Aylestone, particularly during evenings and weekends.
We did: An early evening engagement with residents, including our younger generation who were playing in the Montrose Open Space area at the time was completed. I attended an engagement in the area of Aylestone Farm Shop we were able to talk to the community that were going onto the Open Space Area of Marsden Lane Bridge and The Great Central Way.

We have responded to some reports of misuse of Aylestone Meadows and we have increased our patrols in that area to deter and/or identify and deal with those responsible.

We did: We continue to develop intelligence and have completed Street Consultations in the local area to gather any further information from the local residents. Spot checks have been completed on both persons and vehicles and persons dealt with accordingly. Aylestone Hall Gardens

On Sunday 11th August, in Aylestone Hall Gardens, local residents were able to enjoy the Southfield Brass Band playing in the Gardens. The weather was perfect and it was a lovely setting to engage with the local community.

Community Engagement and meeting our Communities.

This month we have attended local social community meetings including attending after church services, to engage with our hard to reach and vulnerable community. We have given Crime Prevention advice on property, personal safety and phone scams to help safeguard our community. During Street Consultations that have taken place this month, advice has been given to lock away any gardening tools as these can be used as implements to prise open locks and windows. Recently while completing another street consultation, I was made aware that in daylight, there have been two persons trying vehicle door handles. Please make sure there is nothing left on display in your vehicle and it is locked and secure when unattended.
