Anti Social Behaviour

Over the past month, we have conducted regular patrols in a number of locations across the area. Particular attention has been given to Mitchell's Field following reports of youths parking in the evenings, playing loud music, and littering. Patrols have also been carried out at Paper Mill Close, the Staddon Road recreation ground in relation to reports of rowdy youths, the allotments on Groby Road, and the Nook car park following concerns regarding the use of gas canisters by young people. During our patrols, all of these areas have generally been found to be peaceful and free from any significant issues.

We will also be increasing patrols in Albion Street, Anstey, following reports of youths gaining access to a disused warehouse. In addition, we are continuing to monitor incidents involving "knock-and-run" behaviour. These matters are currently being addressed, and the local schools have been made aware of the concerns and have conducted their own internal enquiries.

We continue to receive reports of individuals using e-scooters and illegal electric bikes around the village. Please be reminded that these vehicles are illegal to use in public places, and officers have the power to seize them. As these vehicles can be costly, it is worth considering that they may not be returned once seized.

More recently, we have also received reports of motorbikes being ridden in an antisocial and dangerous manner in the Cropston and Thurcaston areas. Patrols will be conducted in these locations, and where offences are identified, we will seek to seize the motorbikes and, where appropriate, prosecute those responsible.

Drug dealing and antisocial drug use

We have conducted regular patrols in these areas over the past month, with particular attention given to the areas surrounding Paper Mill Close and Burgin Road. During these patrols, we have continued to gather intelligence from local residents and members of the community. We will maintain our patrols throughout the coming month and continue to develop intelligence opportunities in order to identify offenders and take appropriate enforcement action where possible.

We take reports of drug use and drug dealing very seriously and are committed to taking action whenever evidence and intelligence allow. However, our ability to effectively tackle these issues also relies on information provided by local residents. We would therefore encourage anyone with relevant information to contact us directly, either online, in person at our office, or by calling 101. Any information you can provide may assist us in addressing these concerns and keeping the community safe.

Road Safety Issues.

With schools now reopened, we will be recommencing school parking patrols where operationally possible.

The new double yellow lines on Cropston Road, Anstey, are now in effect and should help address the parking concerns that have been reported by residents over a number of years. We appreciate that this may, at times, result in an increase in vehicles parking on the surrounding side roads. As a reminder, parking is available for up to two hours at the Co-op car park on Cropston Road, as well as at The Nook car park.

For those choosing to park on nearby residential streets during busy periods, we kindly ask that you do so considerately and with respect for local residents, ensuring access is maintained and disruption is minimised.

We continue to monitor speeding concerns at both existing and newly identified locations. If you have any information regarding speeding issues, or concerns about a particular location, please do not hesitate to get in touch with us.
